SMUGGLING BIRD OF PARADISE FEATHERS

New York. Aug. 6.—With the seizure of bird of paradise feathers said to be worth $55,000 as they were being landed from the Italian ship Duca D' Abruzzi here today, revenue officials believe they have uncovered a ring of smugglers who have brought a million dellars worth of prohibited plumage into the country. Two of the vessel's crew were arrested. Before the Duca D' Abruzzi arrived here last monday, customs officials learned that the contraband was aboard. As the two seamen came ashore they were iscarched and eighty plumes were discovered conocaled under their clothing.

When the vessel itself was searched pollows and mattresses in the firemen's quarters were found stuffed with the costly feathers. Letters in Italian also were found which officials believe will reveal the workings of the smugglers' ring.
